Amongst the sub continental countries India has the largest land area. Andaman and Nicobar Islands, a union territory of India lies in the Bay of Bengal. It consists of about 527 islands both small and large. The coastline of the Islands stretches for about 100 Kms. The Islands are covered with dense forests all around. The area of the Islands is about 8,293 square kilometers. The Islands consist of 2 groups, the Andaman and Nicobar. These two groups are separated by about 300 Km the capital city is Port Blair. Of the total land area 92% of the land is covered with rain forests. Of the 527 islands, in only 38 islands we find the inhabitants.

FSX has these islands totally bare so after flying all over this wonderful territory I decided to put some life into it. You will find new Land Class pertaining to all the main villages and towns.

Port Blair's Airport has been updated with ramps as well as its buildings. "Adaman Shuttle Service" has its offices here as well as the terminal building for both passengers and cargo.

Several "Seaside Villages with small ports" have been placed for the pilot to land his amphibian.

New Airfields have been built around the Islands.

(Artistic Liberties have been introduced!!)
